BRING RYAN TO THE STAGE

RYAN ROBINSON
STAGE INTRODUCTION

FULL INTRODUCTION

About 45 seconds

Imagine walking a line one inch wide, thousands of feet in the air, with nothing but your focus holding you steady.

Our next speaker does that for a living. Ryan Robinson is one of only a handful of professional highliners in the world, and he has walked lines in more than fifteen countries on six continents. In his hometown of Folsom, California, he walked 1,919 feet between two bridges, in front of 10,000 people, and set the bridge-to-bridge world record. He's also a four-time American Ninja Warrior.

Today, in Everything on the Line, Ryan shares the system that keeps him steady when the stakes are real, and how your team can use it on Monday.

Please welcome Ryan Robinson.

SHORT INTRODUCTION

About 15 seconds

Our next speaker once walked 1,919 feet between two bridges, on a line one inch wide, with 10,000 people watching. Today he's here to show us how to stay steady when everything's on the line.

Please welcome Ryan Robinson.

AFTER RYAN SPEAKS (OPTIONAL)

About 15 seconds

Thank you, Ryan. Take his four questions back to your team this week: Who's our crew? What's our lifeline? What's our line? And how do we recenter? Let's hear it one more time for Ryan Robinson.
